

The People's Column

The question is not: How much will it cost to put in protecting arms at grade crossings in the city where view of the tracks is blocked? But the question is: What value do the railroads passing through Bryan place upon a human life and upon individual property? Another pertinent question is: What does Bryan as a city owe its citizens in the way of protection?

The Eagle has frequently in the past advocated the installation of protection arms at such grade crossings within the city limits as we have several corners where it is dangerous to cross the tracks; but no indication that these warnings to the present time there has been will be constructed any time in the near future.

The close call of the accident on Sunday afternoon when Frank Vitopi faced death or serious injury at one of these crossings is but an evidence of the need for the protection arms or some other device that will bar traffic when a train is approaching.

What will the railroads do about it—just go on neglecting to consider the matter? What steps will the City of Bryan take?

Tabor Cagers Win Two Games From Navasota

(Special to the Eagle).

TABOR, Jan. 13.—The Tabor high school "Yellow Jackets" have returned from Navasota without encountering defeat and won both games they played. The "Yellow Jackets" went to Navasota to win and the yellow and gold fought on. The final score was: Yellow Jackets of Tabor, 32; Navasota, 15, Friday night.

The second game was as interesting as the first, with the final score being: Yellow Jackets, 20; Navasota, 4. The players from Tabor were: Sam Walker, captain; Curtis Elliott, George Branch, Ervin Lawless, Harry Harris, Freddie Conrad, Charlton Cooper, Conlee Wilson and referee, Sherman Walker.

A reception was given by Miss Francis Scotts, a Navasota high school girl, at the home of her parents, in honor of the Tabor Yellow Jackets. Punch, cake and candy were served. They were treated with much hospitality by the Navasota people and have on-ly words of praise for the Navasota boys. Everyone reported a most enjoyable time. Prof. and Mrs. W. G. Colson accompanied the boys. We, Tabor, feel proud of our fine boys and wish them continued success. Philip Tremont, one of our star players failed to get his message; therefore he was left at home. Next time we hope Philip will have better luck and not miss all the fun and punch. Good luck, boys.

John B. Hood, Jr., Sends Check for Memorial Coins

(By Associated Press).

AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—Chairman Lon A. Smith of the Texas Stone Mountain Confederate memorial today received a check for $1,000 in payment for a thousand of the half-dollars being sold throughout the south from John B. Hood of Jonestown, Miss.

It is the biggest single subscription to the Texas campaign, and, coming from outside of the state, created a feeling of exultation throughout Austin headquarters. Hood, a wealthy planter, is the son of Gen. John B. Hood, one of the Texans whose face and figure are to be carved into the side of the Stone Mountain Panorama by Augustus Lukman, the sculptor in charge.

Few of Survivors Converse with Rescue Workers Thru Air Shaft, Through Which Crew is Endeavoring to Reach Imprisoned Miners—Hoisting Apparatus Being Installed.

(By Associated Press) WILBURTON, Okla., Jan. 13.—Most of the 105 men working in the Degnan-McConnell mine, three miles west of here, are believed to have been instantly killed today in a terrific explosion that wrecked the main shaft and entombed them. A rescue crew that started to work at 10:30 o'clock will attempt to reach the trapped men through the air shaft. They were advised to remain near the shaft. J. B. Hynal, chief of the United States bureau of mines of the rescue crew, of McAlester, in charge of the work, is being equipped with gas helmets. He and two helpers have entered the shaft. Hoisting apparatus is being installed to bring out the victims after they are reached.

DOCTORS AND NURSES READY

The rescue work is being hindered somewhat by the blocking of the main passageway into the mine. The first rescue crew was forced to turn back a second time after they were unable to squeeze their way through the debris blown into the man way by the explosion. Four doctors and a corps of nurses are standing by for service in the event any of the miners are brought to the surface alive. The local chapter of the Red Cross has started the erection of a temporary hospital. A. P. Thompson, mining engineer of Hartshorne, who was here doing survey work for the company, is among those entombed.

Cy Koontz Against Half and Half Cotton Pledged Better Staple

Cy Koontz of Zack was here today on business and while here was an appreciated visitor at the Eagle office. Mr. Koontz was in town to set a load of hay and other feed stuff. He stated this was the first time in his farming experience that he had had to buy all of his feed. "I'm not going to be caught again for I am going to diversify this year in my crops as never before," he said. Another thing Mr. Koontz committed himself against half and half cotton and said he never had planted an acre of it and never would. He is for better staple cotton, as well as for standard poultry, thoroughbred cattle and hogs, etc. Why not grow the best in everything? And what other counties grow Brazos county can grow better.

W. A. WITHERS HOME IN EASTERN PART OF CITY BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE TODAY—WIRING, THOT

The nice home of W. A. Withers in the southeastern part of Bryan was rather badly damaged by fire this morning, the loss running somewhere in the neighborhood of $3,000 or more. A passer-by first noticed the flames and warned Mrs. Withers, who makes her home in the upper floor, and her visitor, Mrs. Anne Johnson of Beaumont, who has been here for a time. Mrs. Hardy Newton, who lives in the house next on the east, turned in the alarm and at that time the roof of the Withers' home was all put out the fire in a short time, the citizens who had gathered working together in removing the contents. The house is damaged to the extent of $2,500, or more, it is estimated, and the furniture also damaged, both by fire, smoke and the water that was thrown to put the fire out. The firemen did good work at the blaze. The Adams Insurance Agency states that they had issued a policy in the furniture. Other insurance was carried through the Jno. A. Moore Agency, but they refused to give out any amounts for the public information, stating merely that the loss was well covered. The lower floor of the Withers house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Helm and Miss Maggie Thompson. They suffered but little loss. It is thought that the blaze was started in some manner by the electric wiring.

SECRETARY TO INCREASE SIZE OF THE NEW CRAFT

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Secretary Wilbur today told the House Naval Committee that he favored the construction of an airship to replace the "Shenandoah." The Secretary explained, however, that the new airship should have a greater gas capacity than the "Shenandoah," or the "Los Angeles." The cost of the craft, he estimated, would be about $6,000,000. He suggested a capacity of 6,000,000 cubic feet as compared with the Shenandoah's 2,100,000.

Club Work Is Being Stressed In Brazos Now

County Agent C. L. Benson, County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Abbie Sevier and Miss Juanita Sprott of the Extension Service Department of the A. and M. College, spent yesterday and today visiting the larger schools of Brazos county, getting the new year of club work started. On Monday they visited Smetana, Steele's Store, Steep Hollow and Reliance. Today they are visiting Kurten, Edge and Tabor. At some future time the party will go to Millican, Welborn and Harvey, completing the larger schools.

The smaller schools may enjoy club work too and the county agents will be glad to work with them and the teachers and pupils may have the advantage of individual benefit, even though they have not enough members to really organize a club for participation in state contests. The Howell Lumber Co., prize of $20 every two months for club work, divided into first and second prizes of $12.50 and $7.50, is arousing a great deal of interest in club work in this county and other clubs had better keep their eyes on old Brazos this year when the state championship draws near the close. Brazos was handicapped last year by the unusual drought and the fact that Edge was barred. Look out for Edge this year and some other clubs too. Kurten got a taste of honors with third place last year and will fight for the first honors this year.

Miss Etta Brecker, an aunt of Mrs. A. L. Ward, who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ward in this city, is reported quite ill with pneumonia. Many anxious friends are hoping for a more favorable report of her condition soon.

A motion carried that the annual meeting be in the form of a banquet and that the entertainment committee be instructed to invite the above-suggested guests; that the banquet be limited to Chamber of Commerce members and special invited guests and be made free to them. THE FARM PROGRAM has the most far reaching has ever come before the and Brazos County Cham-Commerce for its considera-the proposal of the budget it, J. Webb Howell, chair-who has set forth some very ful theories which seem able of actual practice. committee advocates the eng of the budget so as to pro-more revenue for the city to with and accomplish results, also that a greater expenditure nds for the betterment of the ation industry of the coun-agriculture.

the prosperity of every individ-Bryan not directly employed the state through the A. and College in other ways, is dior indirectly dependent upon the farmer and the farmer's welfare for his own welfare. is easily demonstrated and to be seen by any citizen of age intelligence. If the far-has enjoyed a good year he is led to pay his debts, or a of them, and has money to not only necessities, but of the luxuries and the of Bryan do a better business, the clerks in their receive a lion of the receipts and as when the store does a good ness they are willing to share e of the profits with the employs. Vice versa, in off years as we have just experienced, stores lose when the farmer s and everyone who is connect-with the store or other business, lose in the same way.

Therefore it can be readily d that anything we can do, in-dually or collectively, to assist farmer to a better agriculture, enjoy greater profits, more ease more contentment on the m, and gain his friendship for an and its business men, the re profit we ourselves will de-from our work.

Mr. Howell has caught this vision, which has long been advocated, and he is willing to assume a rt of the leadership program to ing the desired end about. It ll be up to the whole citizenship lend its co-operation in order at final success may be attain-—not only the active support e members of the chamber of commerce but of every man, woman and child in the city. The farmers too and their households will ave to shoulder a part of the responsibility for the success of the entire. They must show an attitude to receive the assistance which if proffered them for their own good and for the general better welfare of the county as a whole.

In order to put this program over for a greater and more profitable agriculture in Brazos county, it is first going to be necessary to broaden the object of the Chamber of Commerce and let every farmer and farmer's family know, understand and appreciate the motives and the plans of the body.
This will take a great deal of publicity and advertising of some form to put it over. This, of course will be for the special committee to decide on.

But the educational part of it is going to be the hardest. It is a comparatively easy matter to convince the farmer to the idea, since the Extension Service Agents, with the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce, the service clubs and the work of a few faithful individuals, has already given them to know and understand that Bryan is not out to "beat" them but to help them. But the hard part is going to be in converting the bankers of Bryan to support a program that will curtail the acreage of cotton, the plan of diversification of crops and the idea of crop rotation. When the farmer wants to borrow money at the banker, he finds that the success of his plea is largely dependent upon his cotton acreage, as a rule.

Then the first step in the whole undertaking must be one of Home Missions and converting the men who are in the Chamber of Commerce. When this is done and the farmer gets the cooperation that he needs in a financial way, then he can be brought into line easily for the work that the Chamber of Commerce intends to foster.

Among the things included in the better agriculture farm program are some of the points covered by Smith county in her program, which, strange to believe here, was launched by a banker, Judge J. W. Fitzgerald, one of the bankers who has the vision that a free farmer, free of debt and with ready money, is a more valuable asset to the bank than one who is laid down and forced to borrow money each year and pay the interest demanded. These points are: soil improvement and upbuilding. This would be covered by terracing, drainage, etc., to prevent erosion; fertilization, either commercial fertilizer, crop rotation or in some other manner such as the use of barnyard manure; and diversification of crops which would be another form of the rotation practice. The diversification, however, would tend to create a greater acreage of feed-stuff and foodstuff that would enable the farmer to retain the profits on his cotton instead of using it to buy food for the table or for the mangers in the barn or cow-shed.

Another point stresses 100 hens on every farm which would provide the table and kitchen with plenty of eggs for eating and perhaps allow some for the market and the housewife thereby secure some money for necessities about the home. It provides at least one dairy cow on every farm in Brazos county. This would mean that an adequate milk supply would be available for the farm table, saving costs of other less palatable and less substantial foods, and would add to the health of the members of the family and aid in the normal physical development of the children.

There is nothing in the program that the Chamber of Commerce would undertake that would be harmful and much that would be of benefit. There is nothing that anyone could censure and much that could be praised. Then, it is up to all of us to carry it over, not only as a benefit to the farmer but for the selfish reason that by its success, we are also benefitting ourselves.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

"Getting along" successfully with one's neighbors, providing for one's family, helping to maintain churches and schools, and putting aside a little revenue for sickness or old age mean that one is being successful in life. It isn't to gain distinction; to do anything spectacular or heroic; but simply to perform from day to day one's own personal obligations to himself, his family and society. It is necessary, however, that one should have in mind the goal of daily service and usefulness in order that one may attain the proper measure of success. "The ordinary man," as we so commonly hear the term used, or "the ordinary citizen"—industrious, frugal, honest and sincere—is really the best type of American citizenship, and is almost universally admired and appreciated within the limits of his acquaintance and his sphere of activity.

In moralizing with our boys or girls and in an endeavor to stimulate their ambition, we frequently cite the life of men who have been successful, as we ordinarily use that term—in business, in professional life, or in statesmanship. The only advantage which such a life has over the life of the ordinary farmer or the ordinary business man is that his activities have been made known to a circle of men and women, or to society and the public collectively. I have known many farmers whose reputation does not reach beyond their immediate community; hard-working, industrious men, daily meeting their obligations of every kind, who typified to my mind the most successful and desirable class of citizenship to be found in this country.—H. H. Harrington, in The Progressive Farmer.

Bryan and Brazos county will blossom like a rose and its progress will be known around the world when a greater part of the men and women that call this county home can say in the hour of severest trial openly and with honesty of heart to those, their neighbors: This is a day when selfishness gives way to service for others and instead of living for selfish reason I will from this time forward count first those things which mean for the building and betterment of Bryan and Brazos county. A greater citizenship never lived or ever will than those who can make such a statement in real earnestness. No one unless given to the idea of meriting the best that can be offered would make such a statement of that nature, and no one could make such a statement and carry with his utterance the influence of mankind unless he was honest.
Such men and women are real diamonds on the tray of life. This type of citizenship can accomplish anything they undertake.

He asked a widow what she wed.
No one was ever keener, She looked him in the eyes and said
"Now really, 'demeanor'."

Cliff Lopez to Put Money In Turkey Crop

"I have invested the $25 that was donated to me by the Chamber of Commerce, in turkeys," writes Cliff Lopez, the prize winning club boy of Brazos county, to County Agent C. L. Beason. The message adds: "I have seven hens and one tom. Do you think that is a good investment? This year I am going to take as my project: corn, poultry and watermelons.
Just a few more words to say that never in my life will I forget my trip to Chicago. I will close now by wishing you all the luck that this great world has in store for you." Cliff Lopez is the boy who gave up a $60 per month job in order to go to school, thereby showing that he has the making of success in his character.

LARGE FLAKES IN LAZY FALL BUT GROUND WAS COVERED

(From Friday's Daily)
Bryan and Brazos county was visited today by the first snowfall of the season which was enjoyed by everyone. Those who could not get out into it were enjoying the sight of it through the windows. It was a beautiful sight and one that does not come but a few times in years to the people of this section. The fall will be of inestimable value to the county, in point of health and agriculture.

MOISTURE VALUE
Snow is worth much more than rain for moisture in the soil and a good heavy snow now would mean much to the farmers for putting a good crop in the ground. The snow acts like a blanket and when it covers the ground it melts slowly and all soaks in instead of some of it running off into ditches and being lost from the soil and subsoil.

FROM HEALTH ANGLE

From the standpoint of health, the snow will prove a great blessing to Brazos county, clearing the air of disease germs and bringing to an end, perhaps, the sieges of flu, pneumonia and other diseases that have been prevalent the past few months.

Prospects already bright for a bountiful crop and a splendid season were enhanced with the fall of snow, light though it was, and everyone is in a more cheerful attithe school building, are the proud parents of a baby boy, one of triplets born on Sunday morning about

C. L. BEASON'S NEW HOME BURNS ON COLLEGE ROAD ON LAST NIGHT

Loss Estimated at Between Five and Six Thousand Dollars—Home Was Almost Completed and Would Have Been Turned Over to Mr.
Beason in a Few Days—Origin Unknown.

A fire broke out last night shortly before 8:00 o'clock that resulted in the total destruction of the new C. L. Bea-son residence practically completed on the Beason tract on College Avenue, this side of the Country Club. The loss is estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000, but the loss is not that of Mr. Beason, as the house was under contract and was not to belong to Mr. Beason until the keys were turned over to him upon final completion of the structure. when payment would be made. The fire was discovered by Guy F. Boyett and wife, who were coming in to Bryan in their car from College Station, and by Raymond Mathis, son of J. W. Mathis, who lives just across the street a short distance from the Beason house. The building was not occupied. The origin of the fire is unknown, but many think it the work of a fire-bug. The loss is covered with builder's insurance in the sum of about $3,500.

TRIED TO SAVE IT

As soon as they noticed a fire under the house, Mr. Boyett and Mr. Mathis went to the place and put out the blaze. Then they noticed a hole in the floor and looking through the window, after they thought they had the fire out, they saw that the breakfast room was all ablaze. They ran around the house and opened up the door and found the fire well under way.
However, had they been able to get sufficient water, a few buckets full might have saved the structure. Mrs. Boyett in the meantime drove to the nearest telephone and turned in the alarm.

Fire Trucks Delayed

Both trucks started to answer the call, No. 2, the chemical truck in the lead. However, one of the solid casings in front, lost a bit of the fabric and it wound up in the gearing and the truck was delayed.
Had it not been for this unfortunate accident it is believed that it could have saved the total loss of the building and perhaps held it down to only a slight loss. The trucks both arrived in due time, but the house was already too far gone to save it.

County Agent Beason arrived about that time and he immediately went to the garage, crawled on the roof and with a bucket brigade formed from the hydrant in the yard, he began to pour water on the roof on which were falling large embers from the burning house. The chemical truck had gotten in the wrong place and bogged down, after it arrived and it was somewhat scorched by the blaze before it was extricated.
Then it came to the assistance of Mr. Beason and with the full aid the garage was saved.

There are many theories presented by different people as to the cause of the fire. Some think a tramp stopped there for shelter and left embers that later set the place on fire. Others think it the work of some fire-bug who has a mania to see structures in flames while a few think it was set by someone in a spirit of spite.

County Agent Beason said that he visited the home about 6:30 o'- clock and everything was in good shape, there being nothing in the breakfast room but the electric fixtures. The Mathis family noticed no one else around the place after that hour, or earlier.

Half Interest In Bryan And Long Cafes Sold

The Bryan and Long Cafes, which have been under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E.
Long, for the past several weeks, are now under a partnership arrangement, a half interest in the place having been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook of Hearne, who took charge this noon. When Mr.
Long first purchased the business formerly known as the Green Parrot Tea Room he intended to dispose of the Bryan Cafe, but he found that the splendid trade it enjoyed was not of a class that he decided to continue both places of business. However, it was difficult for one management to direct both places so a partner was sought. Mr. Cook has for the past 35 years been a manager of eating establishments for the Van-Noy system and is a most experienced and most successful business man in this line. The change is bound to bring greater efficiency in both establishments and with the result that the public will be better cared for than ever.

Roger Q. Astin Died Last Night

(From Friday's Daily)
After a long and painful illness, extending over many months, Roger Q. Astin passed away at his late residence on West 26th street on Thursday, January 7, 1926, at 6:35 p. m. Deceased was the youngest son of the late James Astin and Mrs. O. H. Astin of this city. He was born in Bryan, July 2, 1887, and was 38 years, 6 months and 5 days of age. His father passed away many years ago, but his mother was with him at the time of his death.

A man of genial manner and happy disposition, Roger Astin enjoyed the sincere friendship of a wide circle of friends, who knew and loved him for his real worth, and who mourn with the berieved relatives today in his death.
A faithful member of the First Presbyterian church of Bryan, and one always deeply interested in its welfare, he will be sadly missed by the members of that congregation. His relationship with the many service and social clubs of his home city were outstanding and in his passing his fellows mourn the loss of a loyal friend and helper. On his extensive plantations in the Brazos Bottom, Roger Astin was one of the leaders in progressive agriculture in this section of the State. He also wrought a last good for the farmers of this section by his work as organizer and first president of the Brazos County Pure Bred Live Stock Association, and his ambition to introduce pure bred foundation stock on every farm in Brazos county a few years ago attracted state-wide comment for the improvement of live stock in this part of Texas.

As husband and father, friend and neighbor, he was "great hearted and true" and his passing leaves an "aching void" in many hearts of Bryan, and D. B. Cash of Houston.

Funeral Services For R. Q. Astin Held This Morn

(From Saturday's Daily)
The funeral of Roger Q. Astin, whose death occurred at his home in this city, Thursday evening, was held this, Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock from his late residence. The spacious home was filled with friends and neighbors who came to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased, and with loving sympathy for the berieved and sorrowing family. A wealth of floral gifts in marvelous beauty filled the rooms, and emphasized again, the thoughtful love of many friends in this and other cities over the state.

Rev. W. N. Sholl, for so many years the beloved pastor of the deceased and his family, came from his home in Durant, Oklahoma to conduct the funeral service. At the appointed hour, the minister prayed the opening prayer, and his words of comfort, power and loving inspiration, came like a sweet benediction upon the broken hearts of the bereaved ones. The reading of several comforting passages from God's Word followed the prayer, the minister dwelling upon the ever beautiful Twenty-Third Psalm, and pointing out in words of truth, the "riches of grace that attend the dead that die in the Lord", and bringing to all the hope of the "resurrection morn". The closing prayer was by Rev. W. H.
Mathews, of the Presbyterian church at A. and M. College. The funeral procession left the home at 11 o'clock and was one of the largest ever seen in this city. At the grave in the city cemetery, Rev. Sholl again conducted the service, and two hymns, "A City Four Square", and "Abide With Me" were softly sung by a trio from the Presbyterian church choir.

Brazos County Day Is Urged To the Brazos A. & M. Club At Meeting

President F. E. Lichte presided over the regularly semi-monthly meeting of the Brazos County A. and M. Club in the Mess Hall Annex at College Station Friday afternoon. The tables were filled with members and a few guests. He seated the attendants and the dinner hour followed—a splendid repast. He then turned the program over to Sterling C. Evans, Mr. Evans made a few remarks as to the necessity for learning what other clubs are doing in order to maintain interest and attention and said he wanted to get expressions from others present as to how this was accomplished. He first called upon Bill Cook, former executive secretary of the Former Students' Association of Houston, who talked at some length on the subject.

Mr. Cook said that the program for each meeting was varied and it was the endeavor of those handling it to spring some surprises and have it as different as possible from preceding ones in order that the members would come out to meetings to see what would take place that time and the next time. He said that much interest was created through the publication of the "Houston Aggie," a little paper printed to record the proceedings of meetings, visits of exes to Houston and supported by advertisements run by former Aggies who are in business there and by friends of the A. and M. institution. He complimented the Brazos County Club on its fine attendance and said that Houston could not boast of a larger one though they had many more exes in the city.

Colonel Ike Ashburn, following the line of his talk at the last meeting, stressed the importance of selling the institution to the people, and particularly those on the campus and who live in Bryan and Brazos county. He said that papers similar to the one at Houston were being published by mimeograph at Dallas and at San Antonio. He added that they did much to enliven the club and create interest in, and attendance at, meetings.

In elaborating on this theme, he said that a result of his trip to the Valley last week, a caravan of Valley people, consisting of about 100 outstanding and representative people, would visit the A. and M. College next May, to see it as it normally functions and to imbibe some of the learning that the institution puts out. He said that another thing the clubs over the State were doing was to invite to their meetings the State legislators, to show them the needs of the College and in the effort to convince them that the College was really a great school and that the institution needed the support of the law-making body at Austin. He said they also frequently invited the senior class of the local high school, the principal and the superintendent, to gain their friendship and perhaps interest some member of the class in higher education.

He sounded a very strong keynote when he said that he would like to see the A. and M. Club of this county foster as one of its objectives for 1926, a Brazos County Day at A. and M. College when they might bring to the institution some 2,000 or 3,000 people to visit there and learn more of its needs and its functions; also as a second objective a great Brazos county fair of an agricultural nature to show farm crop exhibits and products of the rural home and the handwork of the women who reside in it.

Mr. Evans then suggested that a committee be appointed to elaborate a program for the entire year and that instead of the committee-of-the-whole trying to work out a program or set of objectives, this matter be referred to a committee of two or three to solve and report back to the main body. He then turned the meeting back to F. E. Lichte, with a further suggestion of a general discussion as to some ideas or suggestions.

President Lichte first stated that he had under consideration for some time next month a Ladies' Night, when the women would be invited to attend and at this time call upon C. Yates and Colonel Ike Ashburn for the use of their radio broadcasting equipment to broadcast the program that would be prepared especially for that particular occasion.

B. D. Marburger was called upon for a few words and he said that he would like to think the propositions over first. W. Wiprecht responded to a call on him by saying that he thought the present system of holding programs a very good one and that individual members should be held responsible for the program on the day they are placed in charge.

H. H. Williamson was the next speaker and he urged that some action be taken to make a systematic canvass to see if more students could not be induced to take advantage of the agricultural and engineering courses offered by the College. He said that while conditions were already crowded, perhaps if next Fall if there were 3,000 or 4,000 students at the doors waiting to enter, and accommodations for only a part of them, the State might be the more awakened to the needs of the institution. He said that if there were an existing agency doing that work, the Brazos County Club might co-operate, and if there were no such agency in existence, they might lay out some plan whereby they could take the lead and induce other clubs over the State to accomplish some good results along this line.

Just as the meeting closed, S. C. Evans told of a number of the students of the Saddle and Sirolo Club having written to friends and acquaintances asking them to come to College when they were ready to enter, stating that the letters had brought some good results. President Lichte stated that an invitation had been extended to Hal Moseley, A. and M. graduate, now chairman of the State Highway Commission, to meet with the Brazos Club and that a special call for a meeting might be issued to accommodate the convenience of Mr. Moseley. He also stated that the next regular meeting would be on the fourth Friday noon, January 22, and will be held in Bryan. He urged a full attendance at this meeting.

Mrs. Roy Nunn And Miss Brown Are Hostesses

Mrs. Roy Nunn, president of the Homemakers Class and Miss Maude Brown, president of the Friendship Bible Class of the First Baptist Sunday School were joint hostesses on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the former on West 27th street.

Mrs. Nunn presided over the business meeting, held for the purpose of outlining and emphasizing the activities of these two classes during the coming year. Miss Maude Brown read the scripture lesson for the evening, and the class teacher, Mrs. Buchanan, led in an earnest prayer, that God would use these two classes in a wonderful way for His Glory during the coming year.

All newly elected officers were given a detailed statement of their special work, and all group captains were instructed in their duties and given typewritten lists of the names of their group members. Each officer was given a book, in which to make her monthly report to the presidents of the class. A splendid organization, with a purpose full of rich promise for the coming year was launched at this very delightful meeting.

The hostesses served a pretty refreshment plate, with salad on lettuce, potato chips, crackers, hot tea, and salted nuts in dainty tissue baskets, flower trimmed.

Entertainment Features Fine At Convention

The young people of Bryan should profit greatly by the visits of Misses Mary Helen Racey and Edna Earl Cummings to the Convention at Memphis, Tennessee, the first of the year. Both have imbibed a lot of the things that happened and were said there and took voluminous notes in order that they might be able to bring the things back to the people here. Miss Cummings left Bryan and changed trains at Dallas for Palestine where a special train had been made up that went straight through to Memphis and which, before it left Texas, comprised 23 cars. There were about 600 in the Texas delegation to the Young People's Convention of the Methodist Church, South.

Splendid Auditorium.
Arriving in Memphis at 8:00 on Thursday morning of the 31st, the day the convention opened, the Bryan party, consisting of Miss Cummings, Mrs. E. W. Crenshaw and son, Sam, were joined by Miss Racey who had been spending the Christmas Holiday vacation with relatives in Indiana. They registered at the municipal auditorium, where the meetings were held,—a spacious and magnificent building that would seat some 30,000 people, with a stake in the center that could be raised or lowered at will. Next they went to the Peabody Hotel, the headquarters of the Texas delegation.

Group Meetings.
In the afternoon they visited the Overton Park and some of the party enjoyed their first ride in a sled of ice.

The entertainment features of the convention were exceptionally fine, according to those who went from Bryan. The Texas delegation enjoyed a banquet on Saturday at noon when 350 were present. The Texas University group had a meeting on Friday night which Miss Racey attended. Bob Schuler, pastor of the largest congregation in Southern Methodism, from Los Angeles, California, some 3,600 members, was present at this meeting.

Oscar Seagle Concert.
The delegates were delighted on Saturday night to be guests at an entertainment when Oscar Seagle, of phonograph fame, gave a varied concert of sacred songs and others in dialect of the South.

On Sunday afternoon the Epworth League of the First Methodist church of Memphis gave a varied program of Christmas and other music, the feature of which was a duet, Holy Night, by two of the junior choir.

The report of the convention will be made to the young people of Bryan by Misses Cummings and Racey at the First Methodist Church on Sunday night when each will tell of the lectures and the meat of the wonderful talks which they heard,—all of the subject of the young people's problems.

H. O. Ferguson Is A Candidate For Re-Election

To the Taxpayers and Citizenship in general of Brazos county: I submit herewith for your consideration my candidacy for re-nomination to the office of County Judge of Brazos County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July, 1926. Without going into detail in regard to myself or what I have done since I have been County Judge, I ask you to review my administration and ask that each of you give me the same careful and unprejudiced consideration that you yourself would want were our positions reversed. That is all I ask—that you consider me in the same spirit that you would want me to consider you if you were in my place. Furthermore, I wish to express to the public in general my appreciation of past support and ask a continuation of this support and I will do my best to merit every confidence reposed in me.

H. O. FERGUSON.

F. F. Regmund A Candidate for Commissioner

Appearing in today's issue of the Eagle is the first announcement made up to the present time for County Commissioner, this being the statement of F. F. Regmund, present commissioner from precinct No. 3, who is asking for re-election. Mr. Regmund was born and reared in the Smetana community, five or six miles southwest of Bryan and has been a voter and taxpayer for the past 12 or 13 years. He solicits your votes for re-election on the work that he has accomplished during the past two years and on the claims that he wishes to complete during the next term of two years, the work which he has just begun and has not had time during his tenure of office to complete. He desires to serve the people to the best of his ability and pledges himself to do so if elected.

Tom E. Taylor Is A Candidate For Treasurer

Appearing in the columns of the Eagle Monday will be the name of a third candidate for County Treasurer of Brazos County; this time one who has served the people of Brazos in such capacity before—Tom E. Taylor, who has lived in Bryan for more than 40 years. Mr. Taylor was born in Alabama but came to Texas in 1876, at the age of 21, and came to Brazos county in 1886. He has been a tax payer and a voter ever since he came to Bryan. He lived in this city until last year when a siege of the flu prevented his return to his profession of carpenter and he moved to a farm about six miles northwest of Bryan, where he is now following agricultural pursuits. Having kept the books of the county before and understanding the duties of this office, Mr. Taylor states that he has but one plank in his platform in running for the office, a plank that should thoroughly cover the whole field, "I will do my duty in the office if elected."

A. W. Kinnard, Jr., Gets Promotion

County Agent A. W. Kinnard, Jr., who for four years has been county agent of Upshur county, has been transferred to Marshall where he will be county agent of Harrison county, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of County Agent M. R. Martin.

Much as we regret to lose him as county agent here, we in common with his many friends congratulate him on his promotion.

It is a larger field, and better pay, and if there is a county agent, whose faithful service and unswerving devotion to the duty of improving agriculture and helping the farmers in the preservation of their farms, their orchards, their poultry flocks, and in improving them, deserved promotion, earned promotion and better pay, it was County Agent Kinnard.

We regret exceedingly to lose him and his charming wife as citizens of the community, but congratulate them on the advancement in their work. It is a source of special regret to the Mirror to part with Mr. Kinnard. We have worked with him and he has at all times co-operated with the Mirror in its effort to help advance the agricultural interests of Upshur county.

We do not know at this time who will be sent us. But District Agent J. E. Stanford assured the Mirror when he was here last, that if Kinnard was taken away from us, that he would furnish us another good agent, and assured us that he would instruct this agent to cooperate with the Mirror, expressing his very high appreciation of our efforts to cooperate with the Extension work in this county, adding that in no county had the newspaper cooperated more heartily.—Glimmer Mirror.

This bit of news will be read with interest in Bryan as Mr. Kinnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kinnard, was born and reared in Bryan and educated at A. and M. College.

A WOMAN THINKS MORE

OF HER FAMILY THAN SHE DOES OF HERSELF

She imagines she is proving that fact by wearing herself out each week over a steaming washtub.

How much better it would be to have us take care of the washing and ironing while she keeps herself in good health and gay spirits, ready at all times to be a real pal to her husband and her children.

That's the modern way of "doing the wash". Try it this week. Our representatives will call for your bundle and return it promptly, as finely laundered as you could wish. Phone 585—this week.

CHRISTIANS WILL BUILD A NEW CHURCH HOME IN NEAR FUTURE

at Langford of Architectural Department A. and M. College Will Submit Plans and Specifications—Work Will Be Started at Earliest Date for Clearing of Building Site.

As a result of a meeting held last night by the Building Finance Committees of the First Christian Church, met in joint session to consider preliminary steps toward rebuilding the church, a new structure is to be erected soon on the site of the recent fire. A proposal by Mr. Ernest Langford, of the Architectural Department of the A. and M. College, to submit plans and specifications and take on supervision of the construction of the new building was accepted. Mr. Langford will be prepared to submit plans and specifications at the next meeting which will be on next Monday night, at which time the trustees will decide on the mode of structure and materials to be used. The work of clearing the debris from the site will be started at the earliest date.

DONATIONS COME IN

An expression of sincere appreciation was expressed by the members of the committee for the symposium and numerous voluntary donations offered by a number of citizens and members of other denominations. The plans that the committee has under consideration if adopted, replace on the lot the old attractive and beautiful church, thoroughly in keeping with progressive church building of Bryan. It was decided to accept all will offerings and a canvass be entered into at an early date.

H. H. McCain Home—Reports Daughter Better

Mr. H. H. McCain, pastor of the Methodist Church of Bryan, returned on the early morning train from Houston where he was called by the illness of his daughter, Mrs. W. O. Williams, who was operated on Monday morning for acute case of appendicitis. The appendix was already in a serious condition when the operation was performed, but the operation is thought to have been successful. Mr. McCain was assured that his daughter was out of imminent danger, though it would take four or five days for the usual development. He found Mrs. McCain after his return and parishioners have been staying with her during his absence. He is quite relieved with his vigil.

P. S. Park Returns From Inspection Trip South Texas

P. S. Park, grand generalissimo of the Grand Commandery of Texas Knights Templar has just returned from an inspection trip to the Commanderies in the Southern part of the state, including San Marcos, Columbus, Yoakum and Gonzales. Mr. Park reports he found all commanderies in good condition with much enthusiasm in all the Masonic bodies.

Ramsey Home Caught Fire—No Damage Done

The J. Z. Ramsey home, in the southeastern part of the city, in the same block with the Mrs. Alice Ball house that was destroyed by fire this morning, caught fire this afternoon from some unknown cause, perhaps from a spark from the Ball house this morning that had smoldered for several hours. The alarm was turned in about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and both trucks answered the call and the fire was put out with less than $5.00 damage, using no chemicals only and therefore no water damage to contents. Mr. Ramsey said that he could not account for the blaze which seemed to have started between the walls of one of the rear rooms which is an annex to the house proper.

NEW TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLAR CATHOLIC CHAPEL BE ERECTED SOON AT THE A. & M. COLLEGE

Ground will be broken the latter part of this month for the erection of a new $20,000 Catholic Chapel and Center at the A. and M. College of Texas, the finances being furnished by the Knights of Columbus of Texas. Reverend Father J. B. Gleissner, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Bryan and the Catholic Group at College Station, has received from the K. of C. state deputy at El Paso the plans and specifications. The building site of two lots facing the gravel road, about two blocks east of the Methodist Tabernacle, were purchased about a year or more ago from John Tauber. The street from within the College Campus is to be extended to pass the new structure, which will place it on a corner. It is planned to have the structure completed by the first of April, with actual work starting before the first of February. Father Gleissner will have charge of both places, Bryan and College Station.

The Ball house was occupied by Mrs. Alice Ball, her daughter, Miss Mary Bell Ball, her son, Charley Ball, who runs the Ball Grocery Store on North Main street, and Frank P. Martin and wife and child. Mrs. Martin is a daughter of Mrs. Alice Ball and Mr. Martin is associated with Charley Ball in the grocery store. The family is moving this afternoon into the house next door to the one occupied by Professor J. L. Cobb on College Avenue.

The furniture in the Collard home as well as the other contents, were taken out by citizens who gathered at the fire, in case the house should catch and the firemen be unable to control it. It is possible that the furniture was slightly damaged in the handling, but the precaution was justifiable under the circumstances.

BRAZOS COUNTY Boys' and Girls' Club Department

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Terracing Valuable Asset. The terrace lines that were run on the Jim Tobias farm last Thursday will be worth a hundred dollars a year to that farm for the next five years, if the work is properly kept up. Of course, there will be some trouble encountered in the change of row system, but the trouble will be as nothing compared with the loss in soil fertility without the terracing. You farmers better get those old terraces built up good and strong before the spring rains wash your land all to pieces. See that the low places are built up better than ever before. Fix your outlets so they will not wash back into the fields. It is observed that some farmers are greatly neglecting this particular work, thus giving cause for criticism against terracing.

Cracklin' Bread Promised. Roy Robinson of the Higgs-Robinson farm in the Brazos Bottoms, knows that there are certain temptations which any man may not resist, as is evidenced by his proposition to give the County Agent plain cracklin' bread and sweet milk if he will come down on the Brazos. Of course, our discriminating editor of the Bryan Eagle would say that it is no sign of "cultivated taste" for a man to long for cracklin' bread with at least three finger prints on it, but just the same when you say plain cracklin' bread and cold sweet milk you have named a "classic" in eats. We'll leave it to M. B. Easters, P. L. Barron, J. W. Burrows, W. H. Benbow, J. J. Riley, Jim Cloud, Joe Locke, S. J. Dowling, or anybody else whose palate has been tickled with this wonderful combination diet. After all, it comes to the farm home as a result of diversified farming.

Boys, Do Something Better. In speaking to Southern farm boys concerning the essentials of success, the resourceful William G. McAdoo is credited with saying that the surest way for a boy to find success is to learn to do a thing better than anybody else ever did it. If Brazos county club boys and girls will only remember this thought as they endeavor to put over their respective projects this year, "the world may be reading your achievements in the near future".

Watch Herman Henderson. Herman Henderson writes that his pig is gaining a pound a day and that along with his school and club work he is also taking up music. Say, boys, you better keep your eye on that "red headed" boy from the Navasota.

Pruning Rose Bushes. On Wednesday of last week Home Demonstration Agent Miss Abbie Sevier arranged for A. P. Swallow, horticulturist of the Extension Service, to conduct a demonstration in pruning and caring for rose bushes, the place selected being that of Mrs. R. Franze of the Kurten community. Notwithstanding the bad condition of the roads at that time several women were in attendance and all seemed highly pleased with the demonstration in pruning and lecture by Mr. Swallow, who stated that pruning should be to produce symmetry, new and vigorous growth. He told those present how to control the "thrip" and mildew so often found on roses and rose bushes.

Bankers Hold the Keys. If we are to judge the future by the past, the "resolving" over the country to reduce cotton acreage will have little effect. Last year the self-same thing was done with the result that the cotton acreage instead of being reduced was increased some four million acres. J. Webb Howell, president of the Bryan Cotton Oil Company, is correct when he says that the bankers of the country hold the keys to the situation, and are the only ones whose suggestions will be followed to any great extent by the farmers, and the reason is obvious. If more bankers were throwing the weight of their influence into the efforts directed toward a better balanced farming, as is being done by such bankers as Judge J. W. Fitzgerald of Tyler and Colonel P. L. Downs of Temple, the task would be, as intimated by Mr. Howell, an easy one.

Dependable Seed Corn. Have you arranged to get your seed corn from some reliable source? Is it a dependable variety for this section? Let's make no mistake this year, as we have done in the past. The risk is too great.

Bulletin On Watermelons. Every farmer who raises watermelons should have a copy of bulletin C-19 by A. P. Swallow, horticulturist of the Extension Service. This fine little bulletin will give you some helpful hints on varieties, soils, fertilizers, planting, pruning, cultivation, spraying, melon aphid, anthracnose, etc.

Men and Women Voters of Brazos county: "Again I offer myself for reelection to the office of Tax Assessor. In doing so I solicit your investigation of my record as to service and efficiency during the past four years.

I need the office again and must have your support if successful in securing it. You may be assured that I will appreciate the help of all, who, after investigation feel me competent and qualified to hold the office. Thanking you for your past favors given me, I remain, CLYDE F. GOEN."

Steep Hollow (Special to the Eagle). STEEP HOLLOW, Jan. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore spent the week-end with relatives at Edge.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Conlee visited J. J. Waidimer Sunday evening from Bryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hall and family, Dan and Odelle Hall and Miss Pauline Beard of Bryan visited Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hall and family Sunday.

Miss Lola Foster spent the week-end in Bryan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. J. Jones and family of Harvey spent Sunday with Mrs. J. D. Barnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Murray and family of Bryan spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. B. L. Foster and family.

Have you arranged to get your seed corn from some reliable source? Is it a dependable variety for this section? Let's make no mistake this year, as we have done in the past. The risk is too great.

Prizes for Club Work. Announcement that the Howell Lumber Company will give $20.00 every two months for the encouragement of club work, first prize being $12.50 and the second prize being $7.50, seemed to give additional enthusiasm to all club members to whom the announcement has been made. The award will be made on the highest average by the entire club, based on attendance, enrollment, progress of work, and keeping of records. At least one regular meeting will have to be held each month by each club. What club will win first prize? Get busy right now, if you want to help your club win. If you need record books, as assistance in any way, call on your county agents. If you want to see some fine club work, keep your eye on Brazos county boys and girls this year. Hit 'em high; hit 'em low; club members, let's go!

Prospect Community Terracing. There are perhaps more farmers in the Prospect neighborhood able to use the farm level than in any other community. The work they are doing speaks for itself.

Reliance (Special to the Eagle). RELIANCE, Jan. 13.—The Reliance club boys and girls met on Monday afternoon, January 11, 1926, and enjoyed an interesting meeting. Three inspiring talks were given by our County Agents, C. L. Beason and Miss Abbie Sevier, and by our district agent, Miss Juanita Spott. Pamphlets treating on club projects were given out to the club members for the purpose of helping them in their work. Riley Saxon was elected as yell leader and Albino Krolezyk as assistant yell leader for this year.

CLUB GIRLS MEET The Reliance club girls met at the school house at 1:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon, January 7th. A club leader and reporter were elected. Mrs. Will Horton was elected leader and Ruth Mathis reporter.

Miss Sevier taught the girls how to darn stockings. Only two of the girls had their stockings darned. The program for the year was talked about. All the girls except one were present. The time to meet was misunderstood.—Ruth Mathis, reporter.

(Special to the Eagle). RELIANCE, Jan. 13.—We are glad that Reliance is going to have a place in our county paper again after an absence of several weeks.

The Woman's Club met at the Krolezyk home last Thursday afternoon. We hope when the weather and road conditions are better to have a better attendance.

Jim Riley and family of Bryan were visiting in our neighborhood last week-end.

Some of our farmers are already preparing their land. To begin an early crop. We have a good season on already and if we get even as much rain as we did last year it will be a good crop year after all, we hope so any way.

Our Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. have been on the "drag" since the bad weather but we hope when the new year to begin anew and make this the best year ever in the service of our Master.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mrs. Wm. Jones; Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Solon Morgan and Ardelle Hartsfield.

Rev. U. C. Bracewell filled his regular appointment here last Sunday and we had three wonderful sermons. It was discussed in conference to invite the Workers' Council to meet with us in the near future. Also, we are planning to have a Sunday School Rally. We look forward to these being great days.

Messrs. W. Lloyd and family, Lee Burley and family, L. Smith and family of College Station were visitors of our community and attended church last Sunday.

S. M. Bullock, wife and baby, visited in the J. J. Riley home Sunday.

Miss Rachel Crenshaw of Bryan visited Misses Alice and Maybelle Carroll last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hicks and baby, Charles Saxon, wife and baby spent last Sunday at J. C. Slaughters.

Our school is progressing nicely.

under the management of Misses Inez Moore, principal; Ella Conway, intermediate; Lillie Crenshaw, primary. The pupils are doing good work which is a credit to the teachers.

Jodie Conway happened to the painful accident last week while cranking his car to get his wrist badly sprained or possibly broken.

No Terracing Demonstrations All This Week County Agent C. L. Beason states to the Eagle, for the benefit of the farmers, that he will not be able to do any terracing during the week of January 11 to 16, on account of two days, Monday and Tuesday, being devoted to club work and the balance of the week he will be in attendance at a agents' meeting in Houston. Any farm or farmer desiring to use his farm level during his absence should call at the office of the County Agent before he leaves and keep the terracing work going as best as possible until the county agent returns.

Temperatures For Past Week The following tabulation is of the maximum and minimum temperatures as recorded on the standard instruments maintained and read by the Division of Entomology, A. and M. College of Texas, F. L. Thomas, Chief. The readings cover the past week, beginning on Monday the 4th. During that time there was .03 of an inch of precipitation on the 8th was from the snow. Following are the temperatures, beginning with the 4th:

Monday65	49
Tuesday55	36
Wednesday58	37
Thursday57	34
Friday38	28
Saturday51	32
Sunday55	34
Averages54 1-7	35 5-7

While the range in average temperature is greater this last week than for the preceding one, it still hovers under 20 and is 18 3-7 difference between the average maximum and the average minimum. This is a rather constant temperature and shows no wide divergence in average or on any day. The highest point reached by the mercury was on Monday with 65, the range downward and then back up again with Sunday at 55. The highest minimum was on Monday when the thermometer registered 49 and the lowest minimum on Friday with 28, carrying back up again to 34 on Sunday.
